Rhododendron
Postage Stamps

Canada Post is welcoming the spring this year with two 54¢ stamps featuring white and pink rhododendron blooms. The photographs were taken at the rhododendron and azalea display at the Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada Research Centre in Kentville. The stamps will be issued on March 13.

A large collection of species and varieties is maintained at the Kentville Research Centre in a natural bowl-shaped setting framed with mature hardwood trees. The annual Kentville Rhododendron Sunday, usually the second Sunday in June, is an opportunity to see this collection at its best.

Atlantic Canada was well beyond the range of adaptation of desirable rhododendrons when Dr. Donald Craig began collecting and breeding them in 1959. The plantings at the Kentville Research Centre date from this time.

Over some 4 decades Dr. Craig made many crosses, and grew and evaluated many thousands of selections. Starting in 1973 about 10 rhododendron varieties were released from this program. The names of the first variety releases honoured the strong Acadian heritage of the Annapolis Valley with the names "Acadia" (later renamed "Cornwallis" because the original name was found to be a duplicate), "Grand Pre", "Evangeline" (this too was later renamed "Fundy"), "Gabriel" and "Bellefontaine". The names of most of the later releases started with "Minas". Most of these varieties had pink or white blooms, but the last release was a yellow flowered rhododendron named "G.S. Swain" in honour of the Kentville horticulturalist who was a significant contributor to this program. The breeding of Azaleas was a later addition to this program and produced three varieties in the "Minas" series.

Dr. Craig was honoured for his pioneering work with rhododendrons and azaleas. Most of these varieties are difficult to find today, except in the Kentville Research Centre. However, the selections and varieties contributed significantly to the development of hardier varieties and have been used as parents by other breeders such as Capt. Dick Steele, Bayport Plant Farm, NS, some of whose selections are in the Fredericton Botanic Garden collection.

Following are sections of the FBGA by-laws with proposals for amendments, to be presented to the AGM in February 2009. Those words proposed to be removed are ~~crossed out~~ and additions are in italics and underlined. An apparent error in numbering from Article 8 onward has also been corrected. Other numbering has been adjusted as required.

The proposed changes have been prepared by Mike Dillon, George Strunz and Graham Allen, in November/December 2008.

On Saturday, February 7

The Fredericton Botanic Garden Association is holding its 11th Annual Silent Auction.
at the Marysville Heritage Centre on McGloin Street.

This is a request to the membership for donations to this event.

We look forward to receiving the wonderful goods, services and refreshments that you plan to donate to the auction as you have in other years. We encourage you to bring friends, so there will be more competition in the bidding. This is one of our major fund raisers.

I think they will enjoy themselves. As always, we will be serving our delicious and plentiful refreshments. There will be live entertainment, and an interesting special speaker.
(Details of both to be revealed to you at a later date)

Auction items may be dropped off until Tuesday, February 3 at Carole Peacock's, 36 Alexandra Street at any time, but please call first 452-1016

If you are unable to drop your donations off, and would like to have them picked up, please contact Nancy at beltrand@rogers.ca or 459-8004 by Tuesday, February 3

If you can provide a plate of small sandwiches or sweets (finger food), please notify Wayne Beckett at 459-1494 or beckett@nbnet.nb.ca .
He has kindly agreed to coordinate the refreshments.

Seedy Saturday, March 21, 2009
